The aquatic facility has an 8-lane (25 yard) lap pool, a dive well with 4 diving boards (2) 1-meter and (2) 3-meter, 1 large tube water slide, 600' lazy river, beach-like zero-depth entry into a large play pool with water play features, and an interactive spray pad. The translucent art wall that was developed in association with Seattle artist Norie Sato acts as a focal point for the axis of the main entry for the center. It creates a play of light and color that is active throughout the day and into the evening.

The fitness center has machine weights, dumbbells, and cardiovascular machines. A variety of fitness, aerobic and leisure education classes as well as nutritional and wellness classes are offered.

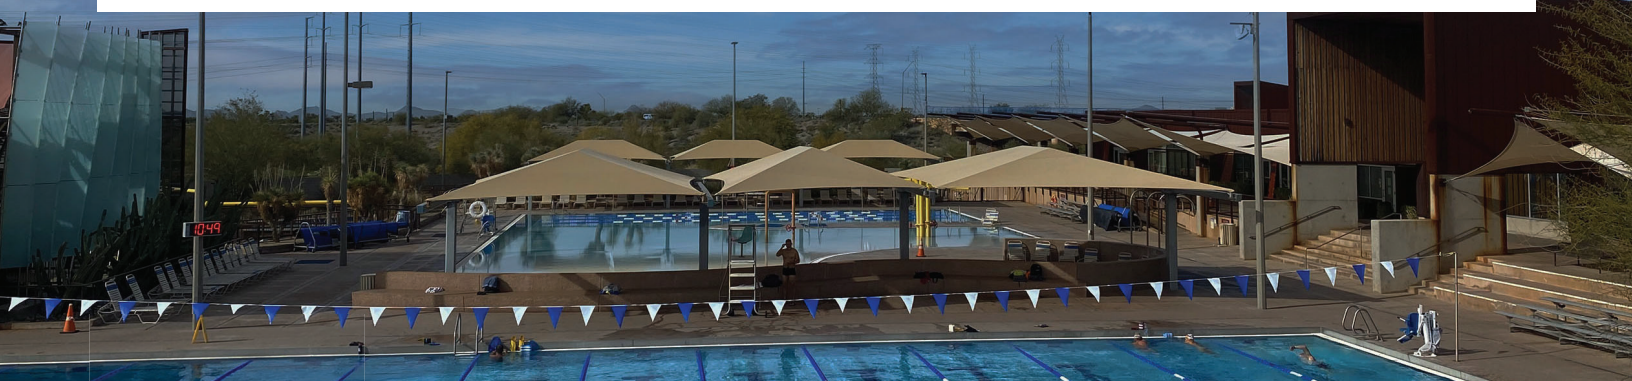

The Skate Park is 16,000 square feet and open to all skateboarders and inline skaters. There are street-like components such as tables, benches, planters and ledges. Additionally, the skate park has a deep bowl at its deepest area.

For those who enjoy hiking and nature, the park offers several miles of trails that wind through the surrounding desert landscape. There are also picnic areas and ramadas available for gatherings and events. The McDowell Mountain Ranch Park & Aquatic Center is a popular destination for families, individuals, and groups looking to enjoy outdoor activities and recreation in a beautiful natural setting.
